

Johnna Gray, Founder of Cultivate Financial

Since graduating with an Associates in Theology degree from Christ for the Nations Institute in 2010, Johnna has had one foot in ministry and one foot in the financial realm. For 13 years, she has worked in accounting firms as a Quickbooks Certified ProAdviser bookkeeper and tax preparer, while simultaneously pastoring in the local church. In 2019, Johnna opened her firm, Cultivate Financial. This firm specializes in incorporation, bookkeeping, and tax preparation for small businesses, partnerships, and nonprofits. With clients spanning the county, Johnna and her team have worked with a myriad of industries including: advertising, agriculture, art collectives, architecture/interior designers, aviation, catering, construction/remodeling, financial services, land development, landscaping, law firms, medical facilities, oil, real estate, online retailers, as well as nonprofit schools, churches, public charities.

Johnna is a life long resident Dallas, TX, and lives with her husband Bryan and her high-spirited mini-me, Emma Lou.
